A Brief Report

The aim of the program was to make students aware about ragging, its consequences and to eliminate ragging in all its forms from higher educational institutes. It also aimed to create a safe and secure environment for students, especially girl students. In this program 120 students participated. The resource person Capt. Dr. R.R. Rajput very effectively explained the students about the psychology behind the ragging, possible consequences and how ragging is harmful in college life for the safe and secure environment. The students understood that we must avoid any kind of activity leads to ragging. IQAC coordinator Dr. A. P. Patil, co-coordinator PM-Usha Dr. A.V. Wakode were present for the program and Principal Dr. H. A. MAhajan was in the chair.
